From the Executive Director

When I began at Wave Academy on January 1, 2017, I learned that Wave Academy was a solid non-profit that provided a much-needed service in San Diego. I was intrigued about the aspect of water as an element of healing, and I was eager to “dive in” to help our veterans heal from trauma. It was a significant year of learning, growing and helping others.

In 2017…

• We provided a best practices program that supported more than 100 clients through aquatic therapy.

• We welcomed clients from active duty military, veterans and caregivers who served in all branches of the military and represented eras from the Vietnam War to Post-911 conflicts.

• We hired a Community Engagement Coordinator to build a bridge with veteran groups, mental health organizations, and non-profits.

• We partnered with graduate programs at the University of San Diego and San Diego State University to leverage planning in marketing, financial, and strategic outlooks.

• We became a recognized non-profit among local government agencies and received a proclamation by the County of San Diego for Wave Academy Day on August 26, 2017.

Most significantly, we made a profound difference.

Our data collection outcomes show that our clients benefitted deeply from the program.

• In 2017, clients had an average decrease in PTS symptoms by 28 percent.

• Clients described outcomes of increased quality and duration of sleep, improvements in their trust in others, acceptance of themselves and others, and tools to help decrease stress or anxiety.

Thank you to our community members, practitioners, volunteers and friends who support Wave Academy. We are transforming lives together.

Warmly,

Elizabeth Berg, MA, CFRE
Executive Director

Our Mission

The mission of Wave Academy is to expand the role of warm water therapy as a powerful tool in the healing of underserved individuals who have experienced trauma. Wave Academy currently serves active duty military and veterans who are diagnosed with post-traumatic stress, as well as their qualified caregivers. We support healing families, preventing suicides, and creating hope for men and women who honorably dedicated their lives in service to our country.

Key Accomplishments

• We provided a best practices program that served 102 clients with 8 to 12 weeks of aquatic therapy.

• PTS symptoms decreased by an average of 28 percent in 2017 between pre- and post-assessments.

• Program retention increased by 50 percent over 2016 with 75 percent of our clients completing their program.

• Wave Academy was a recognized as a LIVE WELL San Diego partner.

• Our events, including a 5K Trail Run and a Recognition Picnic brought new sponsors, media coverage and public awareness.

Notes from Clients

I’m so grateful and thankful for this program. Words can never explain the amount of peace I have felt in the last couple of weeks. I feel peaceful and that don’t come easy.
— Female Navy veteran who served for 12 years, earned 8 Navy achievement medals and has both PTS and MST (military sexual trauma)

My anxiety levels have shown lots of improvement. Today really helped solidify that momentum.
— Army veteran who served for 14 years and has PTS related to combat service and moral injury.

I want to personally thank you for such a wonderful experience and positive natural therapy. Never in my life have I done water therapy. I highly recommend it for every veteran coming back from combat. And their caregivers as well. Combat trauma affects us all differently. I’m more focused on my path, my life. I don’t have the nightmares I used to have. I’m more at peace. Thank you.
— Pablo Markesis, U.S. Army Disabled Veteran

It was nurturing, blissful and serene. It brought back memories of young childhood safe in mother’s arms. Transcendent feelings.
— Vietnam veteran with combat-related PTS

I have had many thoughts about what my life would be like without my experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan. I can say that with my sessions working with my practitioner, I no longer think that way. I’m happy where I’m at.
— Retired Marine Corps veteran who served for 21 years in Post-911 conflicts

It was as if bad energy was being released from my body. Love light into my body and soul.
— 20+ year female Navy officer with PTS and MST

Aquatic Practitioners: Skilled and Specialized

Wave Academy’s team of Aquatic Practitioners have a minimum of 500 hours of training in massage therapy, followed by 500 hours of training to be certified as a Watsu® Practitioner. Classes require an extensive amount of work learning how the body can be moved through water to help release tension and create a symbiotic relationship that opens feelings of peace. Most practitioners also take additional classes to expand their work in aquatic therapy, as well as understanding trauma in clients.

I love the mission of helping veterans heal and feeling the deep commitment of the water. It is an honor that feeds my soul deeply.
— Marcia La Monte, Aquatic Practitioner and pool owner

Who We Serve
Active duty military and veterans diagnosed with post-traumatic stress, and their caregivers. Most clients are eligible for free or reduced services.

Aquatic therapy provides a deep acquaintance with your body. It’s a wonderful adjunct therapy. Integrative medicine is where things are going with trauma work. Wave Academy is an important cog in the multi-therapy wheel.

— Dr. Mark Jesinoski
